

The World

Published by the Press Publishing Company.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 2.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD

(Including Postage)

PER MONTH.....$3.00

PER YEAR.....$35.00

Vol. 22.....No. 11,244

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second class matter.

BRANCH OFFICES:

WORLD OFFICE: 1267 BROADWAY

Between 121st and 122nd St., New York.

WORLD HARLEM OFFICE: 125TH ST. AND MADISON AVE.

BROOKLYN: 300 WASHINGTON ST.

PHILADELPHIA: PA. LEADER BUILDING, 115

South 2nd St., WASHINGTON

CHICAGO: 610 14TH ST.

LONDON OFFICE: 52 CECILIA ST., TRAFALGAR

SQUARE

MAY'S COMPARISONS.

An Increase Last Month of 21 Per Cent. in Advertising and 19 Per Cent.
In Circulation Over
May, 1891.

A HEALTHY GROWTH.

The Gains of March and April
Continued.

Gain of 18,254 in the number of Advertisements printed in May, 1892, as compared with
May, 1891.

Gain of 59,105 in the average number of WORDS printed per day in May, 1892, as compared with May, 1891.

MAY FOR TEN YEARS.

Year.	No. of Advs.	No. of Papers Printed.	Average per Day.
1883.....	7,853	776,033	25,033
1884.....	10,192	1,805,715	61,157
1885.....	11,540	4,148,170	135,831
1886.....	48,262	5,853,610	188,826
1887.....	57,434	6,577,390	212,173
1888.....	61,396	9,000,435	290,336
1889.....	64,663	10,730,050	345,808
1890.....	75,175	9,554,690	317,764
1891.....	72,824	9,565,060	308,518
1892.....	87,778	11,427,321	368,633

WORLDS PRINTED

Every Day for May, 1891-1892.

May	1891.	1892.
1.....	809,460	257,681
2.....	308,800	393,491
3.....	303,890	372,659
4.....	306,960	373,743
5.....	300,720	373,625
6.....	305,920	368,690
7.....	307,000	375,282
8.....	307,810	356,292
9.....	306,240	369,617
10.....	323,120	373,961
11.....	304,950	369,463
12.....	305,390	368,284
13.....	305,110	368,605
14.....	305,590	363,222
15.....	305,310	255,370
16.....	301,720	309,278
17.....	222,000	376,333
18.....	303,640	373,404
19.....	316,130	362,639
20.....	306,050	370,574
21.....	308,370	381,919
22.....	305,310	370,623
23.....	303,720	370,407
24.....	210,550	370,873
25.....	303,710	371,219
26.....	304,090	372,269
27.....	304,590	369,085
28.....	306,020	370,016
29.....	290,810	370,307
30.....	321,990	373,954
31.....	210,440	378,038
Total.....	9,101,210	10,937,145
Weekly and Semi-Weekly	463,850	490,176
Grand Total.....	9,565,060	11,427,321

* Morning Edition only.

THE WORLD will not, under any circumstances, hold itself responsible for the return or safe-keeping of any rejected manuscripts or pictures, of whatsoever character or value. No exceptions will be made to this rule with regard to either letters or pictures. Nor will the editor enter into correspondence concerning unsatisfactory manuscripts.

The Evening World Prints Associated Press News.

The "Greater New York" movement is not even sleeping.

The Blaine talk makes music in the air for the Anti-Harrison men.

It is the safe way not to give the trolley even the least of a foothold.

Brooklyn's police on parade yesterday fully merited the compliments paid them by Mayor Boody.

PLATT thinks one ballot should settle it at Minneapolis. What a joke if it should be PLATT who got settled.

After Dr. PARKHURST has seen the worst in Whitechapel it may have a modified idea of the enormity of vice in New York.

The Harrison men have got in the first whoop at Minneapolis. But of course they realize that they whoop best who whoop last.

Report to a high hand to put down the highlanders would be amply justified after such an occurrence as the battle of Tuesday night in a Sacramento street.

The United Presbyterians, at Pittsburgh, have decided that because the President signed the Chinese bill he is not a Christian. Following the Platt interview, in which Mr. HARRISON allowed full credit for creating NOBLE, WANAMAKER and MILLER, politically, this new blow comes almost up to the mark of the last straw.

There is a good, old-time American ring about the story of the Yankee shipper in the harbor at Puerto Cortez, who returned to come ashore and stop the Honduras revolutionists if they didn't stop shooting so near him. It is worth while to remark that they stopped.

CAND FOR THE PEOPLE'S EYES.

A petition was presented to the Board of Aldermen yesterday, asking that the Twelfth avenue be opened from Thirtieth street to Sixtieth street, in order that the New York Central Railroad may remove its tracks from Eleventh avenue to Twelfth.

The petition was referred to a Committee.

Let there be no mistake about what this petition means, or about the barefaced job it conveys. During the excitement caused by Commissioner BURNAN'S narrow escape from death on the Eleventh avenue track a committee of citizens had a conference with the railroad company, and the latter offered to remove their tracks from Eleventh avenue to Twelfth avenue, provided the city would open the latter avenue. This is but throwing sand in the people's eyes.

The contract for opening and filling Twelfth avenue is in the hands of a Vanderbilt legislator, and the work will take ten years to do, and during that time the New York Central Railroad tracks will remain where they are. The idea is intended to silence the outcry against the Eleventh avenue tracks and to let the railroad enjoy all its present privileges.

Even if the tracks could be moved tomorrow there would be no better protection to human life than there is now. The maiming and killing of victims would go on still, only a block nearer to the river. The city would be saddled with the cost of an expensive street opening, and the Vanderbilt corporation would get a better road bed free of expense.

If human life is to be protected, the Vanderbilt railroad tracks, which crush and mangle an average of one victim every month, must be driven out of the city streets altogether.

HARLEM MEALS AND MORALITY.

School Commissioner CROSBY appears to be bent on creating a sensation in the Board of Education. The address he delivered yesterday, in which he denounced the introduction of "arithmetical conundrums, Italian operas and extra subjects" in the public schools, led to severe comments and was denounced by Commissioner HOYT as "insulting and untrue."

But a yet graver charge was made against the offending Commissioner by Mr. HOYT, who asserted that through Mr. CROSBY'S vagaries he had been for years compelled to "buy his evening meal in Harlem to the detriment of his health and morals."

This raises an interesting question. Is there really immorality in Harlem?

Let us know that in the Harlem District, under Commissioner HENRY, the people have made mincemeat of some machine politicians. But surely they do not serve them up in sausages or croquettes, as is said to be the case with cats and dogs in some crowded cities. Is there anything roistering and rowdyish in a Harlem roast? Do Harlem side-dishes lead to digestion?

Mr. HOYT owes it to the community to plain just what he means when he charges that meals in Harlem are injurious to morals. Otherwise prudent people will hesitate to break their fast there, and the restaurants of the upper district may well put up their shutters.

TOO MUCH TAKEN FOR GRANTED.

The President of the railroad combination controlled by the Broadway syndicate made the announcement of his intention to use the trolley system on all the lines of the Company not fitted with cables in an off-hand manner, as if the matter had already been fixed and determined. We have the consent of most of the property-owners," he said, "and have no doubt about securing the approval of the Aldermen."

Well, probably the President may find some other obstacles in the way of his plans. The promoters of a race track in Central Park had a bill passed by the Legislature, made a law by the lightning approval of the Governor, and carried into effect by an equally prompt resolution of the Park Commission. But the people had something to say about it, and the job was swept away in a cyclone of public indignation.

The people of New York have submitted to the disfigurement of their city long enough. They have put themselves in the way of getting rid of the overhead wires and aluminum poles of the electric companies. They are not going to permit the streets and avenues to be occupied now by the unsightly poles and hideous apparatus of the trolley system. Of that the Broadway syndicate may rest assured.

DR. COLLYER AND THE SPIRITS.

It will evidently be a difficult task to convert the Rev. Dr. ROBERT COLLYER to a belief in Spiritualism. He is a searcher after truth, but when he attended a seance at the house of a celebrated medium last Tuesday he saw enough to satisfy him that the show was a sham.

When some students sought to test the courage of the famous Nationalist by appearing at his bedside in the middle of the night, bearing the head of a cow, with flaming eyes, their intended victim arrived from deep sleep, took a steady look at his strange visitor, and muttering, "Horns, horns—gruminivorous—will eat flesh," turned around and went to sleep again.

Dr. COLLYER saw some female spirits whom the medium had summoned to

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

appear. But he observed that they were all dressed in a substantial fabric. "Calico, calico," said the reverend investigator; "earthly material and not celestial attire." And he left the room satisfied that Spiritualism is a humbug.

THE COLUMBUS CELEBRATION.

The Committee to arrange the plan and scope of the New York celebration of the landing of Columbus has prepared a programme which seems to meet with public favor, and which, if effectively carried out, will present a series of grand spectacles and pleasing entertainments for the gratification of the people.

The occasion is one which ought to enlist the enthusiastic co-operation of all our citizens. Money will be needed to carry out the plans properly. It ought to be forthcoming. Work, hard and faithful work, will be necessary on the part of the several sub-committees. It ought to be cheerfully contributed.

The five days of the celebration will be an event in the history of New York. The Columbus Fair is to be held elsewhere, and New Yorkers will do all in their power to make it a success. But they ought first and foremost to take care that their own celebration is worthy of the metropolis and of the interesting event it commemorates.

MR. MACLEAN IS RIGHT.

Roundman DALEY is entitled to a fair trial. The case against him is not yet considered and he denies the story told by the complainant altogether. But enough has been shown to make it fairly certain that he went into the saloon with the girls and a brother officer, and that ought to be sufficient to insure his dismissal from the police force. Commissioner MACLEAN takes the right position when he says "it makes no difference what is done in the Police Court. I am here to preserve the discipline of the Police Department."

It is very clear that DALEY is not a fit man to be on the force, and the sooner he is retired the better.

The fact that the first day of June pretty nearly broke the record, as regards heat, doesn't necessarily mean that the whole Summer is to follow suit. But it does bear on the importance of having the Sick Babies' Fund in such a shape that work among the little ones in the stifling tenements may be begun promptly and well. Now is the time to give the Fund a great boost. THE EVENING WORLD relies upon its readers and the friends of children to appreciate this and to contribute liberally.

An editor at Speyer criticized a brutal German Lieutenant, and the officer and a companion came to the editor's house with drawn swords to return the compliment. They withdrew hastily a moment later, at the wrong end of a very large revolver, which the newspaper man brandished persuasively. The pen, well backed up, had proved mightier than two swords, and the good people of Speyer are applauding very justly and vigorously.

No longer is it in order for the romantic to sneer at the prosaic ugliness of New York's Elevated road. A pair of clovers from New Jersey rode up town and downtown, back and forth, all night on "L" trains while waiting for a reasonable hour at which to call a minister. The light of young love has thus spread its halo over that hitherto plain and straddle-bug system of local transit.

It was a cruel and disheartening first experience of a new world which fell to the lot of the 900 immigrants who were left to stifle all night in the Teutonic's steerage, though the steamer was docked at 11 o'clock in the afternoon. Somebody at Ellis Island was so much to blame for this that it should cause trouble there.

The Governor has postponed his hearings on several pardon cases until June 7. Most of the country will be listening to Minneapolis about that time. It is to be hoped the State Executive will be able to concentrate his attention on the cases before him, as they call for careful judgment.

Commissioner CROSBY, of the Board of Education, declares that many boys have been promoted "by kissing and favor" to the first grade in the public schools. If the Commissioner is not reckless, this smacks of something worth investigating.

Rev. Dr. ROBERT COLLYER, having attended a seance, doubts the genuineness of spirits who appeared in calico. It is surprising to find a clergyman guilty of so uncharitable an act as judging by the clothes.

Yesterday beat all the temperature records but one for June 1st. Next Tuesday, unless signs fail, will outdo, in point of torridity and in Minneapolis any previous 7th of June.

Has the Kaiser no word for the sentry who was so punctilious that he even stopped the Empress and demanded her credentials at the gate of the palace park?

Ex-Keeper BECK doesn't seem to stand trial any better than he did test, in the Buco O'Brien matter.

FORAKER'S fire-alarm has sounded. Is it time to send in an ambulance call?

Knew the Maids Iovers.

"Why do you think Maids Iovers?"

"She was the only girl at the Leap Year Ball who did not ask me to dance."

A Thieving Storm.

"This is highway robbery," said Morrison Essex, as the heavy rain washed the road away from in front of his place.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking

ABSOLUTELY PURE

HELP THEM TO LIVE.

Lend a Hand and Swell the Fund for Sick Babies.

Hot Weather Is Upon Us, and Their Suffering Begins.

Hundreds of Tiny Patients Awaiting the Free Doctors.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The Evening World.....	$100.00
Previously acknowledged.....	1,547.02
Holmes and Henry.....	5.00
A. E. K.....	1.00
Marguerite and Frances.....	.61
John Savage.....	.10

NOTES BY NELL NELSON.

To the Editor:

Can Nell Nelson help me to dispose of a bundle of old heavy clothing? The bundle includes an old overcoat, which does not suit having at this season. If you can furnish any address you will greatly oblige.